Services held for toddler killed in accident

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Memorial services were held at midday Wednesday for 2-1/2-year-old Wyatt Bennett of Bethel.

Wyatt, the son of Jim and Robin Andacky Bennett died in a tragic accident Sunday, when he was run over by his father's pickup truck.

At the time of the mid-morning accident, Wyatt was accompanying his father, who was working on the Starlight Trail, behind the Grand Summit Hotel.

Jim Bennett, a subcontractor working for a fireworks company, had been doing maintenance work on equipment, in preparation for the upcoming ski season.

Just prior to the accident, intending to move his truck, Bennett sat Wyatt on a nearby woodpile.

But the boy wandered off, and when his father began to move the truck one of the tires ran over the youngster.

Bookshop owner wins her fourth $10K prize

By ALISON ALOISIO

In the early 1980s, Sandy Dennis of Bethel was at home, pregnant with her daughter. "I was bored," she said. "My mother gave me an article about a woman who entered sweepstakes as a hobby."

For fun, Sandy sent in a few contest entries. Then she decided it was time to make a commitment.

"I said I'd give it three months, and do it consistently," she said, to see if she would win anything. "Within a couple of weeks, I won a $5 gift certificate to McDonald's," she said.

The rest is sweepstakes history. Last week, Sandy won her fourth prize worth $10,000 or more.

She is the grand prize recipient of a $10,000 cash prize from the Uncle Ben's Better Together Family Sweepstakes, sponsored by the Uncle Ben's rice company.

The prize is to be used toward a family reunion for up to 30 family members. The sweepstakes promotes family togetherness.

Shooting for a reliable water source before freeze-up

Donnie Katlin, assistant superintendent of the Bethel Water District, releases air pressure and water from the new pipeline being laid along the North Road. The line, nearly two-miles long, will connect the current system to new underground wells, which district officials believe will provide a reliable water source for Bethel Village. The plan is to bring the wells on line before freeze-up, when the now-temporary Chapman Brook watershed will no longer be producing. The watershed, which had provided the village with water for more than a century, was destroyed by a flash flood on July 11. Last week FEMA formally announced that nearly $1.4 million in federal funds have been made available for restoring the watershed and bringing a new, underground source on line. The announcement was expected, and the district has been at work since last month laying the new pipeline, about two-thirds of which is now in place, according to John Head, chairman of the BWD Board of Trustees. Katlin praised the patience of local residents and other travelers of the North Road, who have had to deal with delays brought on by the construction. "They've been great," Katlin said, "and we're working as fast as we possibly can to get the work done."

Work winds up on latest package of improvements at Bethel Airport

By MICHAEL DANIELS

"It's a potpourri of improvements," said Bethel Town (and Airport) Manager Scott Cole, characterizing several upgrades recently completed at the Bethel Airport.

The latest round of airport projects at the airport was funded — like most improvements in recent years — largely by federal dollars.

The airport receives approximately $150,000 from the FAA each year for upgrades. The facility qualifies as long as it is moving ahead with the program outlined in its master plan.

The federal funds make up 95 percent of the money available for the upgrades, with the balance coming from the Maine Department of Transportation and the airport's own budget.

Real-time weather information from the airport will soon be available on line, 24/7.

(2.5 percent each).

(Note: in the late 1990s the now defunct American Skiing Company contributed $150,000 toward the cost of airport upgrades, with much of that funding used to cover the town's share.)

Safety enhancements

This year's improvements included projects intended to enhance safety and security at the airport, and others upgrading the physical facility.

Honda SUV piloted to boggy landing in marsh-bottom muck

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Bethel Fire Department fished an SUV out of eight feet of water in Albany's Patte Brook Marsh Friday night.

On Friday afternoon, a hunter reported seeing the roof of an SUV in the water.

The BFD responded at about 4:45 p.m., as darkness was falling.

"The first people to go out there couldn't see anything, so they thought it might be Crocker Pond, but it was in fact in the pond at Patte Brook Marsh," said Fire Chief Mike Jodrey.

Firefighter Mike Bennett went into the water in a rescue suit and found the vehicle at a depth of eight feet, about 60 feet from shore, Jodrey said.

Maine State Police requested the vehicle be removed that night, he said.

TIME TO PULL TOGETHER

To the Editor:

Eight years ago, Jim Bennett saved our son's life. As a member of the Emergency Response team, Jim was first on the scene to an ill-conceived juvenile attempt to paddle a raft on a flood-swollen stream in March. Jim acted promptly and intelligently, and his courage, determination, and skill turned what might have been tragedy into a harmless — if cold — childhood caper. We as a family are forever in his debt.

Now Jim is in the middle of his own nightmare. He needs our help and our prayers and our support like never before. As a father, I cannot imagine his agony, and I certainly do not know what to say to help ease his pain.

But I do know that Jim Bennett and the like are rare and essential community members. Whenever someone is needed — fighting fires, rescuing kids, finding planes, managing flash floods — Jim Bennett is the first to volunteer. It is now time for us as a community to recognize that sacrifice, and to pay back some of those hours that Jim has so selflessly given. So write letters, e-mail him, call him and Robin, do whatever you can to help them through this horrible time. But above all, keep him in your thoughts.

This is a time when good communities pull together, and by making individuals whole, they strengthen themselves.

CHRISTMAS FOR FAMILIES 2007

To the Editor:

Once again we are approaching the holiday season and Christmas for Family volunteers are looking for your donations to make this Christmas something special for some who would otherwise have little or nothing (with the high cost of heating and gas it will be even harder for some families). Christmas for Families tries to help as many children of all ages as well as their parents (in the SAD44 district). Over the past 25-plus years, the community has helped in so many ways.

There are a couple of ways you can help. You may donate a gift or money, or adopt a child or family; you let us know what size family or what age child you would like to adopt. We do not give out names or addresses, but we give you ages, sizes and anything else we have for information that might be important. Our goal is to make sure each person gets something new for clothing, books (coloring and reading), hats, mittens, a toy, game and if we have gift cards for either a movie, gas or food it is all a great help.

If you would like to adopt a family or donate to this project, please feel free to call me at 836-3600; leave a message if I'm not available or write to: Nina Wheeler, 157 Barker Road, Bethel, ME, 04217. You will either receive a return call or a letter as soon as possible. Please know that this is all in the strictest confidence, even those who get adopted.

Also, if you need assistance, call or write me at the above telephone number/address and I will mail you an application as soon as possible.

Our goal is to complete this project by Dec. 15. We are also doing fundraisers such as a benefit bingo, food sale and raffle on Dec. 9 at 2 p.m. at the American Legion Jackson-Silver Post 68 in Locke Mills (875-2375).

Thank you.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH ABOUT THE WATER SYSTEM?

To the Editor:

Bethel's water system and what is the truth.

Last summer we had quite a downpour on July 11 at night. I have heard we got from seven to nine inches of rain. That evening I went to an American Legion meeting, and when I came home, I dumped my rain gage. The next day I had a reading of three inches.

They say the reservoir cannot be used anymore. How come? What do they think happened in 1936? I can remember the dam being full of debris then also. It was a privately-owned water company in those days. Also I can remember the dam being cleaned out in the '50s.

No way can I believe the dam can no longer be used. I can believe that the town of Bethel is about to outgrow the existing water supply and the powers to be are trying to get free money to pull their chestnuts out of the fire.

In Saturday's Lewiston Sun (Nov. 10) on page B2, did you see Bethel Water District gets $1.37 million? Quote: "The Bethel Water District will receive more than $1.3 million from the Federal Emergency Management Agency to help repair its water system, damaged in a July 11 deluge. The announcement of the funding was made by Maine U.S. senators Olympia J. Snowe and Susan Collins, both Republicans. The money will help the water district build a filtration plant to continue using Chapman Brook as its municipal water source, according to the senators' announcement. The storm dumped between six and eight inches of rain on the area in 45 minutes, destroying the water system."

Who are we to believe, and where does the truth lie?

How much money does the Water Company owe? Who is responsible if they go belly up and have to pick up the cost?

What is the yearly income of the Water District, and how many customers do they have?

Have they given any thought of the people living in the area of the new wells — the wells are to be about 40 feet deep. What if they suck up all of our water? They are running a test now on one well, I believe for seven days. That is about 1,000,000 gallons going into the river. How many gallons of water does the town now use and how much more in the future?

What we need are responsible, truthful and reliable people.

REMEMBERING BARBARA H. BROWN

To the Editor:

The death this week of Barbara Herrick Brown brings to mind one of the most dedicated of the Bethel Historical Society's legion of volunteers that I have known over the past thirty plus years. From the first days of my assumption of the responsibilities of managing the affairs of the society in 1974, Barbara was there. She rarely missed a monthly meeting in those days and was a fountain of information on the town's past, particularly focusing on our attempt to document the history of particular areas or streets of Bethel. In this regard, she presented programs on Clark and Mechanic streets, which were later printed in the society's quarterly, The Courier. She was also a generous donor of photographs and other historical items through the years.

In addition to all this, Barbara was affectionately known as "the flower lady" in the society for her constant attention to keeping the society in fresh flowers for museum tours and all kinds of special events. I was always amazed how easily she made what seemed like rather ordinary flowers look so good and how quickly she could put new life into bouquets that needed refreshing. She was a "pillar" in the society's annual flower show as long as her health permitted. Besides all this, she was a very talented craftswoman and her pressed and dried flowers arrangements were always of interest during our activities that included traditional crafts. With these considerations firmly in mind, is it any wonder that when the Marjorie MacArthur Noll Volunteer Service Award was established in 1987, there was no question who would be one of the first recipients.

In recent years, we greatly missed having Barbara involved on a regular basis in the society's events and programming that she so loved and enjoyed, but she has always been to me such an inspiration for her enthusiasm for and belief in the work of the society. Every organization should have one so committed and dedicated.

BUSINESS SHOWCASE THANKS

To the Editor:

The Inaugural Business Showcase was a great success for a first-time event of this type here in Bethel. Much planning went into the event and the feedback we have received from the businesses and nonprofits in attendance will help to inform the committee, as we begin the planning for next year's event.

One of the major goals of this project was to better connect with the youth of the Bethel area. The Future Business Leaders of America, Telstar High School Chapter, worked with us to create a template for the day that needed to be modified due to the tragic death of Dee-Dee Palmer, one of the planning committee members. This terrible incident could have completely paralyzed the student portion of the event, but a last-minute decision of the Telstar administration, to invite all high school students to come through the exhibits in the gymnasium, brought life back to that portion of the day. The Bethel Interact Club, comprised of both Telstar and Gould Academy students, were a huge help in the set-up of the event Thursday evening. The Bethel Area Chamber would like to thank all those students, their advisors and the Telstar administration for helping make the event a success.

There were 45 businesses and nonprofits represented at the event, and we would like to thank them for their enthusiasm and willingness to risk on a first-year event. Those present were: Key Bank, R.D. Johnson Insurance Agency, Maine Line Products, Western Maine Insurance, Mahoosuc Kids Association, All Doyles Cleaning Service, Western Maine Cultural Alliance, Norway Savings Bank, Maine Handicapped Skiing, Kelly O. Newkirk, CPA, Figures, Bethel Citizen, Computer Solutions of Maine, Sunday River Ski Resort, Rocky Coast Gift Basket Co., Duplexis Motorsports, Pooh Corner Farm & Greenhouses, RE/MAX In The Mountains, New England Forestry Consultants, True North Adventureware, Northeast Bank, Bethel Station Chiropractic, Mollycoddet Motel, Andree Kehn Photography, Hebron Academy, Lennox Capital, Perennial Inn, Maine Conservation School, SpiritWings, Specialty Timberworks, Western Maine Supply, Mahoosuc Timberframe, Main-Land Development Consultants, Oxford Hills SCORE Chapter, Bethel Inn Resort, Ellie's and Andy's Workout Express, North Country Wellness, W.J. Wheeler Co. Inc., Bethel Kitchen Designs, Selapada, Sunday River Alpaca, Serendipity Café, Photography by Christal, Michael Steven, Attorney and Bethel Rotary Club.

A huge debt of gratitude is extended to David Smith from Snap Electric for working many hours to help design adequate electrical service and to Peter Kuzyk for helping us out on the wireless Internet. The Business Showcase committee volunteers worked diligently for many months in the planning as well as set-up and clean-up. Many thanks are extended to: Colleen Files, Key Bank; Michael Steven, Attorney; Lynn Saxton, Western Maine Insurance; Richard (and Derri) Johnson, R.D. Johnson Insurance Agency; Jim (and Robin) Bennett, Computer Solutions of Maine/Norseman Cycles, as well as Brad Jerome, Bethel Inn Resort.

We look forward to next year's event and appreciate any suggestions to help make the event one that the community can be proud of.

Executive Director, Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

LIONS CLUB THANKS

To the Editor:

The Bethel Lions Club would like to extend a big "thank you" to the Norway/Paris Lions Club and the Naples Lions Club for their support of the Bethel Lions Club in the Maine Marathon on Oct. 7.

We would also like to thank all community members, friends, and families that offered their support and helped the Bethel Lions Club raise over $800 for the Western Maine Girls Association run by Kathy Goldberg.

Thank you, thank you, thank you! And we will be walking/running again next year.

Operation Game Thief launched

AUGUSTA—People who want to report poaching and other fish and game violations can now use the new Operation Game Thief (OGT) website to make those reports. "Maine game wardens have always relied on the eyes and ears of concerned citizens to help stem poaching, and with the advent of the Maine OGT website, we have made it even easier to report illegal activity," said OGT Board chairman Chuck Allen. "The Operation Game Thief website went 'live' on Monday, Sept. 17 and several poaching investigations have already been initiated by Maine game wardens as a result of tips reported online," Allen said. Once a report is made and investigated, rewards of up to $1,000, based on the severity of the violation, are paid for information leading to a summons being issued or an arrest made. Rewards of up to $2,000 are paid for individuals apprehending unlawfully introducing non-native fish species into Maine's lakes, rivers or streams. "The maineogt.org site received 65,000 hits in its first six weeks," he added. Maine is one of a handful of states whose OGT website is capable of processing online violations. The new website also features case summaries about apprehensions made by Maine game wardens which resulted from a concerned citizen contacting OGT. Both the website and the 800-number provide the concerned citizen or sportsman with an opportunity to remain confidential while reporting illegal activity and still collect a reward. Operation Game Thief, is a non profit organization which works with the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries Wildlife Warden Service to expose and apprehend poachers of our shared fish and wildlife resources. All funds to support the program and to pay rewards come from the fundraising efforts of the OGT board of directors and donations made to the program by concerned citizens. Poaching violations can be reported by calling 1-800-ALERT-US (1-800-253-7887) or by visiting the new website at: www.maineogt.org

Town Office closing early

NEWRY—The Town Office will close at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 21, and will also be closed Nov. 22, Thanksgiving.

Drug/alcohol group forming

BETHEL—People in recovery from alcohol/drug addiction are invited to join a recovery group facilitated by an experienced and knowledgeable person. The group is open to everyone who feels they may benefit from a change, and will start in the Bethel area on Wednesday evenings from 6 to 7:30 p.m. For more information, call Laurence Austin at 824-4077. All calls are confidential.

Record donation to pantry

NEWRY—Sunday River's early opening brought in a record number of donations at the annual Tin Mountain Roundup food drive. Guests who brought at least 3 cans of food received $15 off the price of a lift ticket. Collected on Saturday and Sunday, a total of over 3,000 cans of food are now being donated to the Bethel Food Pantry. "We service approximately 50 families on a varying basis throughout the year, but at the holidays we always try to offer more so people can take what they need," said Dave Bean, a volunteer for the Bethel Food Pantry. "This donation has exponentially helped us to stock the pantry for those who need it. It has become a Bethel tradition." Affiliated with the Good Shepherd Food Bank in Auburn, the Bethel Food Pantry is open year-round. While the holidays are an especially important time for food donations, they continue to take a variety of items including shampoo, toilet paper, and paper towels, which are in high demand. Those looking to donate to the Pantry may call (207) 824-0369. Residents of the Bethel area seeking assistance from the Pantry should call to make an appointment.

Rotary study program offered

BETHEL—Applications to join Rotary's Group Study Exchange program are now being accepted. The exchange will be with The Philippines and will take place from mid-February to mid-March 2008. Since its founding in 1965, the Group Study Exchange program has provided grants for teams of men and women in the early stages of their business and professional careers to travel abroad and share vocational information with the representatives of their respective professions in other countries. Team members spend four to six weeks studying the host country's institutions, economy and culture while observing how their own professions are practiced abroad. They follow a carefully planned itinerary, including visits to government and cultural institutions, schools, religious and historic sites and other points of interest. In addition, each team member spends at least five days studying and observing the practice of his or her profession in the host country. More than 500 exchanges between paired Rotary districts occur each year. To be eligible for the program, team members must be between the ages of 25 and 40 and employed full-time for at least two years, and be U.S. Citizens. They are not allowed to be Rotarians or children of Rotarians. The Philippines is the third largest English-speaking country in the world. The island nation is composed of more than 7,000 islands in the South Pacific. A WINNER AGAIN—Sandy Dennis at the cash register at Books 'N Things in Bethel. Dennis recently won a $10,000 family reunion in an Uncle Ben's sweepstakes contest. She offers her own regular drawing for a bookstore gift certificate (box on counter). (Photo: A. Aloisio)

The prize will fit right in with the regular reunion plans of Sandy and her husband, Dennis.

They typically hold reunions for one side of the family, Sandy said, with participants chipping in to buy lobsters for the event.

Next year, said Sandy, both sides of the family will gather at once.

"I'm buying," she said.

She also plans to serve rice dishes on the side.

While lobsters for that many people won't be cheap, she doesn't expect them to cost $10,000.

So after upgrading the family lobster gathering, she plans to use the remainder of the funds to upgrade her computer system at Books 'N Things, her Bethel bookstore.

Sandy entered the contest online in September. She went to the Uncle Ben's website looking for a recipe and noticed the sweepstakes, which was nearly at the end of the entry period.

"I thought it was probably too late, but I decided to enter anyway," she said.

Her name was drawn out of approximately 9,000 entries.

Other winnings

Sandy has won three other five-figure prizes.

Not long after she won that first $5 McDonald's gift certificate, Sandy won her second prize: a BMW automobile.

Instead of taking the car, she took the cash value — $14,000. The Dennises used it to add a garage to the house they were building at the time.

The other two large prizes were a trip to the NFL's Pro Bowl, and a 50-inch plasma TV package.

Sandy also won a trip to NASA Space Camp. But because her children were too young at the time to take advantage of it, she donated it for Telstar High School to award.

In the mid-1990s, when she took on the bookstore, Sandy cut back substantially on her contest entries.

"We were busy," she said.

But about a year ago, she was finding herself with more time. And thanks to the Internet, entering contests had become much easier.

As a result, Sandy now puts in about 50 entries a week. Most of her winnings have been T-shirts, gift cards and other small items.

She still considers entering contests a hobby, done for fun.

"I try to be a conscientious consumer," she said. "If I don't use the product, I don't enter."

And Sandy isn't just on the receiving end of such contests.

Every week at Books 'N Things, she draws a $10 gift certificate winner from a box of customer entries.

Airport

The safety upgrades include such access-control measures as a new keypad-operated security gate, and 500-foot new fencing installed around the runway apron.

To aid flight safety, the airport windsock has been lighted, making it much easier for approaching pilots to ascertain wind direction.

The hangar-access road was also paved, and several thousand feet of cracks in the airport runway have been sealed.

Automated weather info

Thanks to LifeFlight of Maine there has also been another important upgrade to the Bethel Airport and to five other relatively small, and isolated airports in the state.

The LifeFlight Foundation has underwritten the installation of Automated Weather

Observing Systems (AWOS) at each facility.

The unmanned stations provide around-the-clock, real-time readings of local weather conditions.

The AWOS version installed here provides readings of wind speed, direction and gusts, barometric pressure, dew point, altimeter setting and cloud cover.

To access the information, pilots within 10 miles of the Bethel Airport simply tune to the airport frequency and then click a specified number of times on their microphones.

And within a month, Cole said, links should be in place that will also make the local weather information available to anyone anywhere in the world with access to a telephone or the Internet, Cole said.

Jet fuel on hold

Not included among this year's upgrades was the installation of a jet-fuel dispensing system.

Such a system was initially included in this year's bid proposal package, but was it dropped when the single bid that came in was too high.

A jet fuel system might be included in the next round of improvements, Cole said, but the Airport Committee is still exploring whether the need (jet fuel is used primarily by small jets and helicopters) is sufficient, especially given jet fuel's relatively short shelf life.

The airport master plan, last revised in 1998, is also due for updating — in itself a fairly expensive ($100,000 and up) undertaking, Cole said.

Whites

the 100-acres-or-less category.

The awards recognize landowners who provide public access to private land for all outdoor recreation, including snowmobiling, riding all-terrain vehicles, fishing, hunting, trapping, camping, hiking, skiing and general outdoor use and access to the state's natural resources.

The Whites were nominated by the Snow Valley Snowgoers club. They have been members of the club for about 15 years.

In a letter supporting the nomination, SVSG's Honey Cronin wrote, "David and Betsey White generously donated a portion of their property for an easement to our snowmobile club to build a structure to serve as a meeting place and a warm-up hut for the public."

"They donated much of the materials, and labor, as well as the use of equipment to the club to build a fabulous building. They also supplied much of the furnishings and appliances and saw to it that necessities were taken care of."

The new warming hut, built last year, replaces an 18-year-old one at another location.

"We thought we could improve on it," said Dave.

The Whites and other club members built the new hut on a concrete foundation, with a full basement.

This year, they closed in a porch on the structure and also added on to the back, nearly doubling the size.

The building is heated with a woodstove on the ground floor and a monitor heater in the basement.

The club holds its meetings there now.

"It's a place to gather," said Betsey.

During snowmobiling season, they serve chili and hot dogs from the building, and, in the morning, coffee and donuts.

Marsh

Bennett and fellow firefighter Jim Bennett, also in a rescue suit, were able to hook a chain through the sun roof and side window, Jodrey said.

"The car had sunk deep enough into the mud so they could not hook onto anything else," he said.

A tow truck from Gaudreau's Repairs pulled the car out at about 7:30 p.m.

Last week, a blue Honda Pilot was stolen from a Bethel

Village location, according to Bethel police.

The vehicle pulled from the marsh was also a blue Honda, Jodrey said.

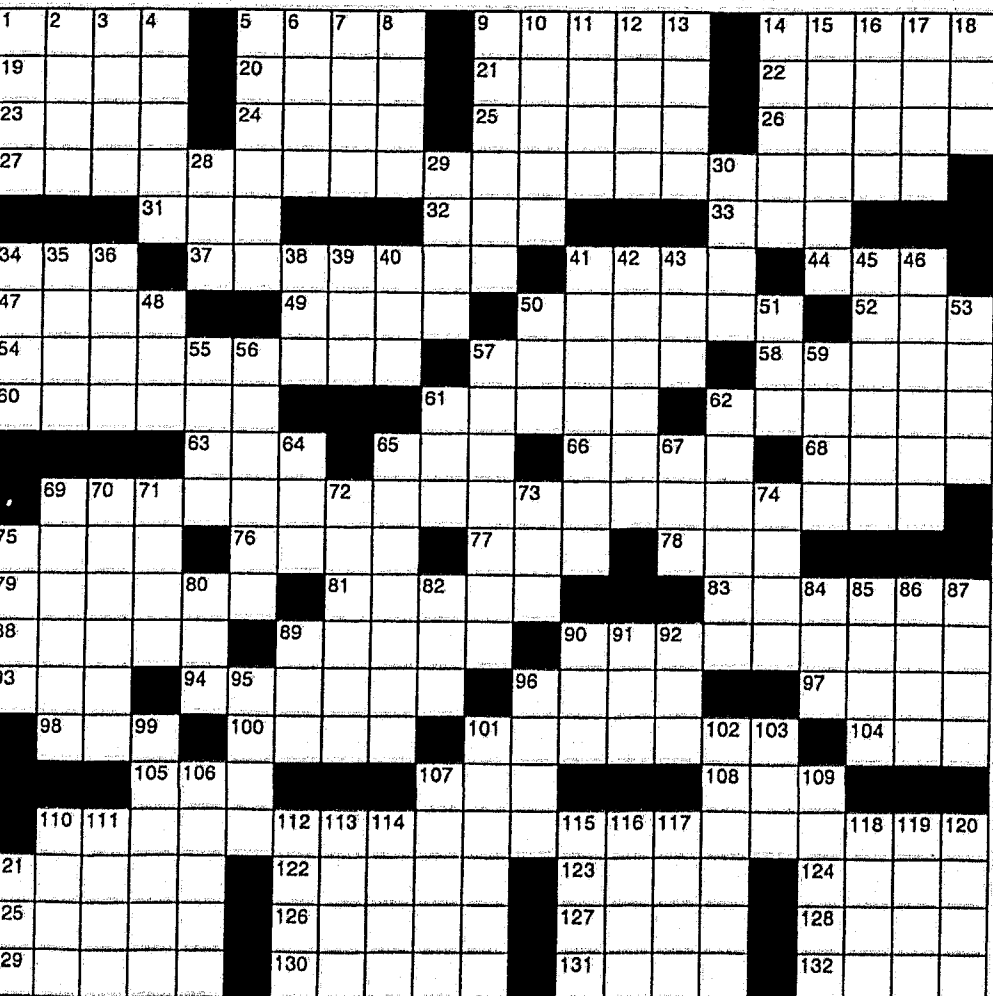

The car theft is still under investigation.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published

I recently had my annual physical, not that it was any big deal. Because I had a badly infected sebaceous cyst at the time, my doctor referred me to a surgeon. Again, it was no big deal other than the fact that a sebaceous cyst is painful. However, the whole experience reminded me that no matter who we are, rich or poor, fat or thin, beautiful or plain, in a Johnny we are all created equal. I take a certain amount of comfort in that and I learned a few things too.

"What did I learn?" you ask. I learned that from the first doctor visit through the pre-admissions testing and right through the surgical procedure, modesty is no longer something you can hang on to. Check it at the door, for there is no room for modesty in a medical setting.

Fortunately for me, I've been pretty healthy, so I have had little experience in these matters. I suddenly found myself in the position of putting my body and my life in the hands of a complete stranger. Think about that for a minute.

When in need of surgery you go before a person you have probably never met before, strip naked, let them feel where it hurts, then ask them to take a very sharp surgical instrument to cut up your body while you are unconscious or even worse, wide awake. And you and/or your insurance company will pay them a lot of money to do this. It's hard to comprehend, isn't it?

Other than word-of-mouth, it's hard to know what kind of person the doctor really is. Because there is no "consumers' guide to Physicians," you have to put your trust in the profession and assume that other parts of your body will not be inadvertently removed. Therefore the doctor's waiting room means a lot to me.

You can tell a lot about the doctor by the condition of their waiting room. The kind of magazines they have is important. If it is the usual assortment of popular magazines no more than three or four months old, that's a good sign.

How the office is decorated also tells a lot about the type of physician you're about to entrust with your life. Andrew Wyeth or Norman Rockwell type pictures are good and relaxing.

... fat or thin, beautiful or plain, in a Johnny we are all created equal.

Cute quilted wall hangings, dried floral arrangements, or whimsical posters probably indicate the doctor is a gentle family person. If there is a display of antiquated surgical instruments, or Nazi memorabilia, I suggest you leave immediately and search for a different doctor.

My doctor's magazines were current and run-of-the-mill and the office décor was of the Andrew Wyeth/Norman Rockwell variety, so I decided to stick around.

As I was waiting alone in the examining room for the arrival of Dr. Bob, any fears or apprehensions I had going in were immediately replaced with feeling of foolishness. I was about to meet the man who I would soon allow to cut me up and I'm sitting there clad in a flimsy beige plaid paper Johnny (barely clad, I might add).

Any movement I made ripped the darn paper ensemble, further "decladding" me. I felt like a napkin at the Road Kill Café.

Anyway, as I was sitting there, because what else can you do in such a situation, it occurred to me that as foolish as I looked and felt, whoever was sitting in the next examining room was doing the same thing. It could have been the richest or most glamorous person in the area and she or he too would be reduced to looking like a party favor. It was wonderful to realize that even Julia Roberts in all her beauty would look just as much like a recycled paper product as I did under the same circumstances. I took comfort in that idea.

When the day of surgery rolled around, I was once again stripped of all modesty and given a cloth hospital Johnny to wear. Hospital johnnies are one-size-fits-all, so they are not exactly tailored to the body's contours. I was then shuttled from gurney to operating table back to gurney and finally to a hospital bed.

Each one of these moves caused the Johnny to fly askew and reveal the naked truth of my condition. I felt like the butt of a lot of bad hospital jokes.

There is no way a person subjected to almost any kind of medical procedure can cling to any kind of modesty, so just forget it. It took me a while to accept this fact, but I finally did. I vaguely remember thinking, as I was being placed on the operating table in a semi-conscious state, Johnny in disarray, that the way I saw it, even Dr. Bob in the same situation would be flapping in the breeze. I took comfort in that.

Rainwater quiz

Test your knowledge about where the rainwater in your neighborhood goes and how it can affect your favorite swimming hole, fishing stream or nearby lake.

1) When it rains, 40 to 70 percent of the rainwater that falls on your property: a) Soaks into the ground. b) Evaporates. c) Runs off your property.

2) Water that runs off a typical one-acre house lot: a) Is the same quality as from an acre of forest land. b) Has twice as much contaminant as forest land. c) Has 5 to 10 times as much contaminant as forest land.

3) Stormwater that drains into a storm drain is: a) Treated by the wastewater treatment plant before reaching our waterways. b) Untreated and flows into nearby lakes, rivers and streams, or estuaries. c) Contained there between rain events until it evaporates.

4) Is polluted stormwater the largest source of water quality problems in the USA? Yes or No

5) Can you help prevent stormwater pollution? Yes or No.

Answers:

1) c. The Maine Department of Environmental Protection estimates that between 40 and 70 percent of rain and snow melt that falls on the average Maine residential lot runs off! Roofs, driveways, even most lawns do not allow water to soak into the ground. Watch after the next rainstorm. Where does your storm water go?

2) c. Studies in Maine have found that the water running off even well-maintained one- to two-acre lots contains 5 to 10 times as much phosphorus, a nutrient that leads to nuisance algal blooms, and other contaminants than from nearby forested land. Imagine a raindrop falling from the sky. It first flows across your lawn, then down your driveway. It makes its way along the sidewalk and into the road. At this point in the stormwater cycle, the raindrop is no longer traveling alone; it has picked up some pesticides and fertilizer from your lawn, some soil from the eroded area by the road, a bit of bacteria from your pet's waste, as well as some gas and oil from your driveway.

3) b. If stormwater flows into a storm drain, it continues to flow through an underground network of pipes, where it discharges, untreated, into your local waters. It might even be where you swim, fish, or play. Polluted stormwater can cause beach closures, swimming bans, and nuisance algal blooms; it can harm fish, shellfish, and other aquatic life. It can also contaminate drinking water sources.

4) Yes, both nationally and in Maine, polluted storm water causes water quality problems in more miles of rivers and streams and more lakes and estuaries than discharges from industries or wastewater treatment plants. Because there are so many of us, we, as individuals, actually cause more pollution than industry.

5) Yes, you can help. You can:

Plant trees, shrubs and grass to stabilize eroding soil. Maintain vehicles and dispose of waste fluids at recycling centers.

Bethel

Mayville and Around Town

By Donald G. Bennett

Barry Carver and his group of associated craftsmen have been working at 23 Mechanic Street, the former home of Stan and Barbara Gallant, for over ten months. This group works collectively under the signpost of Carver's Woodworking. They are turning an old traditional Bethel village house into an expanded modern home without changing its traditional style. This is the very careful, attentive way the new owners, Nina and Tim Chan, want to treat their Bethel residence. The Chans live in Sandwich, Mass., on Cape Cod. Sandwich is the oldest town on the Cape; it was incorporated in 1639. Ironically Sandwich is not far from the town of Carver.

Barry says "we are fortunate in a way that there are people coming here who can afford to fix these old places up. And I am fortunate to be able to carry out this kind of work." Barry went on to say that his name probably got tossed out by Jim Reuter who had worked out a design for a two-car garage with a space above it and a connecting ell to the old house.

At first Barry had some concerns about joining into the project because of the amount of time involved, complications that could come up in remodeling an old house and unfavorable conditions they might run into. Actually more of the old house was taken down than at first intended and the entire original building has now been remodeled. Landscaping will wait until spring.

In the last four years, Barry, who started out teaching himself to do fine cabinet work, has finished three other houses that are part of the new Bethel area landmarks: a post and beam house at the end of Douglass Road in Powder Ridge, a post and beam house on Mt. Abram and a house in the Red House Farm Village. When we talked about the Mechanic Street house last Friday at his Grover Hill workshop he had material laid out for finishing a basement sauna as the last step in the Red House job.

One of Carver's pursuits that seems to go on forever is rehabilitating a really historic camp on the west side of the Narrows at the Richardson Lakes. This is one of the many camps described by Herbert P. Shirrefs in his book "The Richardson Lakes" which was edited by Randy Bennett and published in 1995. Barry refers to the camp as the Vive-Vale Camp; it dates from the mid-1880s and it is near the Thurston family's camp. In "The Richardson Lakes" book, a photo of the old camp is found on page 310. Like the old days, lumber and material has to be moved by water and the crew uses a pontoon party boat as a lumber-carrying boat. Also any work done in the winter means traveling in by snowmobile. The camp's owners come from Meredith, N.H. I had to ask the question: Did Barry think that the owners will live long enough to enjoy the camp's restoration? He replied, "Oh, yes."

Business Showcase

Friday night the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce and local businesses got together to exhibit the area's business scene. Besides having almost a reunion atmosphere among the participants and visitors, the whole affair gave a very professional looking appearance. It would have stood up very well by comparison to a Boston or Orlando exhibition and open house.

From what I could see, the two oldest businesses in the show were W.J. Wheeler's Insurance and The Bethel Citizen. From the time of Bethel's first printed Town Report in 1887, Wheeler's was covering town insurance needs. Talking with people who were visiting and exhibiting, the feeling seemed that participants were impressed with how well the whole exhibit appeared.

Two big factors in favor of doing something like this again at Telstar is convenient, plentiful parking plus the size of the exhibition room and entrance to the display area. Telstar's gym seemed to fit the bill very well.

Valuation Day at BHS

Saturday morning there was a steady stream of visitors carrying in treasures and heirlooms to be appraised by Jay Boschetti, owner of Steam Mill Antiques. The Historical Society had arranged this event in its O'Neil Robinson house. Mr. Boschetti was set up in what had been the former bedroom of the The Elms suite. Those waiting their turn or just listening in were able to hear what he had to say about a variety of items brought for appraisal.

Randy Bennett told me that earlier what might rank as the most unusual artifact had been brought in by Susan Herlihy. It was an artillery shell casing from the Normandy beachhead in France that had had the impression of a rose hammered into the brass. Alden Kennett had brought in a tilt-top candlestick table that dated back to the 18th Century.

A PLACE TO GATHER—Snow Valley Sno-Goers members Betsey and Dave White and Honey Cronin outside the warming hut on the White's property. The Whites provided the site and many materials for the hut. ry.

If you wonder, like I did, how Mr. Boschetti found his way to Bethel, the answer is not unusual. He said that he vacationed in Mason with his family while a youngster. He previously lived on the North Shore in Lynn, Mass., and it was family ties that influenced his move to Bethel. He has an extensive, varied antique and collectibles business at the Steam Mill. You can browse his collection on the Internet at <http://www.steammillantiques.com/>. His website has 19 departments to see.

And Other News

Nov. 10th's Sun Journal ran a news release that had been issued by Senators Snow and Collins stating that FEMA will release $1.3 million to the Bethel Water District to help repair its damaged water system.

Saturday the water district's pipe-laying operation was plowing along on overtime. Cross Excavation's crew was moving westward on the North Road. They had reached a point about one and one-tenth miles from where they had started near the Angevine Park parking lot. At Douglass Gravel Pit West the well-drilling rig was still set up at the same location as last week, but a large discharge hose has been laid across the field between the well and the Androscoggin and water was surging through it from the well's pump.

Out on Route 2 in Gilead a long strip of cleared land has an anti-erosion blanket of straw laid over it. Some of the huge boulders that were embedded in the hillside are very much in evidence now. At the east end, the main effort seems to be concentrated on blasting and removing the massive ledge that stands in the way of the highway being straightened. Keeping the highway open to all the heavy commercial and car traffic and still get the ledge blasting done must be a real headache.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Last Wednesday morning Jake and I were treated to a very special sculpture exhibition. It was a foggy morning, and every leaf, stem, flowerhead, pine needle, and spider web was limned in white. The effect was both eerie and beautiful.

While almost all the dead leaves are down, the beeches cling tenaciously to theirs. They will wait until next spring, when the new leaves emerge, to drop the old. A flock of evening grosbeaks appeared at the feeders on Friday, looking very spiffy in their gold and black plumage. And as of Monday the relocating squirrel count is up to 37. However, I understand that Bob Davis has caught at least 120 of the critters.

Last Friday night my daughter, Martha Siegel, and I attended a performance of OHM-PAA's production of "Don't Dress for Dinner." It was hilarious, and very well acted and presented. It isn't often that I laugh out loud at a play, but this one was a corker. We laughed loudly and often.

The Reverend Earl Bell's last service at the West Bethel Union Church was on Sunday, Nov. 11, coinciding with his birthday. After the service the Bells were joined at Bethel's Best by several church members for a farewell breakfast.

The evening before was the occasion of the church's annual Thanksgiving fellowship dinner, which was also a farewell party for the Bells. They will be leaving next Monday for their new home in Medina, N.Y. Forty or more people were at the supper to wish them well on their retirement.

Nancy and Lydia Grover presented the Bells with a handmade quilt. The congregation gave the Bells a framed photo by Jim Hannigan. The photograph showed the church with the afternoon sun shining through from west to east, by all accounts a stunning picture.

Last Friday morning about 16 Red Hat ladies gathered at the Sudbury Inn for a sumptuous buffet breakfast. The home fries were out of this world, and everything else was pretty good, too. These gatherings are always an occasion to get to know someone a little bit better, which is delightful.

This coming Saturday night, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. in Bingham Auditorium of Gould Academy, the Mahoosuc Land Trust will present a slide show and lecture with author Howard Frank Mosher. The title is "Where in the World is Kingdom County?" Mosher, an award-winning New England author, will tell how he wrote his latest novel, "On Kingdom Mountain." He will discuss the story of Jane Hubbell Kenison's struggle to save her ancestral mountain in Kingdom County from development by local businessmen.

A selection of Mosher's books will be available for purchase; autographing will follow the presentation. A $5 voluntary donation is requested to help defray costs. Further information can be obtained by e-mailing info@mahoosuc.org or calling 824-3806.

Hope you're enjoying these beautiful, crisp fall days as much as I am. See you next week. dhoe@megalink.net; 836-3011.

his daughters, Lise Dupont McLain and Aline Dupont decided to surprise him with a trip to Gorham, N.H., for dinner at Mr. Pizza. There was a birthday cake for them to enjoy and the staff sang Happy Birthday to him. I can always remember Gerard's birthday since it falls on Veteran's Day.

My brother, Steve McLain, received another picture from Major Stephen McLain. Stephen is with a group of other military personnel that are stationed at Camp Adder.

I received a call from Roy Newton of Gorham, N.H. The Dupont-Holmes Post 82 is getting ready to send packages to Iraq. Roy is a faithful reader of the Bethel Citizen and saw that Stephen is doing another tour over there and wanted an address for him. Roy knows Stephen from when they both lived in this area. This is quite fitting since Stephen's grandfather, Stephen J. McLain, Sr., was a charter member of that post when he lived in Gorham. According to the copy that I have, the charter was granted on Feb. 21, 1928. Many thanks to groups such as the Legion who look after our people who are serving in the armed forces.

Election Day was fairly busy for Gilead. There were 59 voters out of a possible 148 on the Voting List. It rained most of the day, but we were comfortable in the Town Hall with the woodstove going.

Nov. 6 was also the birthday of our grandson, William Chapman. William turned 7 years old. We called to wish him a Happy Birthday, but he was out celebrating with a trip to the movies.

This past Saturday, Hugh and I took a trip to Cumberland to watch our grandson, Ben Chapman, run in the New England Cross Country race at the Twin Brook Recreation Center. There were 200-plus runners from all over New England.

Don't forget to stop by the new shop in Bethel this Saturday, Nov. 17, for the grand opening. Jill Bujnowski will open her Village Sweets candy shop at 10 a.m. at the Philbrook Place. There will be lots of ideas for Christmas gifts. Yes, Christmas is not that far away.

Town Office
The Selectmen, Fernand Corriveau, Mark Wigley and Steve McLain, gathered at the lawyer's office on Thursday, Nov. 8, to sign the paperwork that would finalize the purchase of the property by the Town Hall that will be used for the new Town Office.

The CPC will meet on Nov. 15 (tonight) at the Town Hall at 7 p.m.

The annual craft fair at the Andover Fire Department will be held on Saturday, Dec. 8. It's not too late to reserve a table; call 392-1140 for more information.

Jean Gammon and Madeline Wells returned home last Saturday after a trip to Arizona to visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Chase.

Get well wishes to John Ricker, who underwent heart surgery recently. He is staying with his sister in Corinna while recuperating.

The deer count at Mills Market through Saturday, Nov. 10, is 42, down a slight bit from previous years.

Celebrating birthdays this week are Jacob O'Leary and Taran Vitale, both on the 19th.

Have a nice weekend.

Recently I drove to Waterford to have a wonderful treatment from Dr. Bonnie Sendzicki, D.O., for an osteopathic alignment. She takes Medicare and MaineCare patients as long as you have a primary physician. Her hours are Monday and Thursday in Waterford and Wednesday in Brunswick. You may reach Dr. Sendzicki at 583-2399.

My congratulations to Janis and Jack Cronin, who were wed on Saturday, the 10th. They exchanged vows in an early evening candlelight service in Zephyrhills, Fla.

Gage Berry, son of Jason and Sarah Berry, celebrated his 1st birthday at his great-grandparents, John and Nancy Wight's home on Nov. 9 (birthday Nov. 8). Helping him celebrate with his great-grandparents were his parents, Jason and Sarah; his sisters, Jordan and Payton; his grandparents, Ed and Rhetta Powers; Terri, Staci and Jazmyn Littlehale; Brad, Brenda, Kurt and Kevin Wight. Sending gifts were Aunt Mandy Berry in Florida, Katie Wight in Boston, Mass., and Uncle Mike Wight.

Flowers are still being picked at my home — planted ones and wild ones. My neighbors, Jackie and Dave from New Hampshire, said their lilac bush has bloomed recently. I'm curious as to what it will do in the spring. I'll try to remember to ask them in May 2008.

Don't forget the Recycling

Center as you sort through last year's woolen hats, mittens and scarves. They are collecting outgrown items, which they plan to distribute to needy youngsters especially now that the cold weather has set in. There is a well-marked box for these items.

At the BR Trading Post, as of dusk on Veteran's Day, 56 deer had been tagged. Stop in for hunting supplies or for lunch of their specialty of the day. Also there are several kinds of munchies to take with you as you hunt in the cold.

Lots of birds are making an appearance. Sandee Dunn saw a pine grosbeak last week, and I have seen several small groups of snow buntings. One of my favorite birds has shown up this week, the redpolls.

The Town Office will be closed on Thanksgiving, from Wednesday, the 21st, at noon through the weekend.

News from the Town Office: The Board of Selectmen meets on the first and third Monday of each month. The Planning Board members meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Their agendas are posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings, you may call 824-3123. All meetings are open to the public.

The town of Newry now has the Rapid Renewal program. This program, through the Maine government, allows residents to renew their vehicle registration online. If you would like to participate in this program, please call the Town Office.

Prices for wreaths will range from $4 to $26 depending upon the size and decorations. Also available are decorated candy canes. You may pre-order by calling 864-2129 (Butch and Vickie Clark).

The Nov. 6 Referendum Election is now history. There were 76 residents from Hanover who voted. Working at the election were Joan Everett, Paul Ramsey, Herb Adams, Kelly Harrington and Clem Worcester.

The Hanover Town Office was closed on Monday and Tuesday this week. Monday was a holiday due to Veteran's Day falling on Sunday, and Tuesday the staff attended a Bureau of Motor Vehicles workshop at West Paris.

Due to recent threatening situations, the Hanover Neighborhood Watch asks residents to be on the lookout for suspicious activity in the area including unfamiliar vehicles or pedestrians. If you see unusual activity please contact police.

Last Saturday, local residents who are associated with the Knights of Pythias traveled to Brunswick for the dedication of a new lodge hall for Fort George Lodge 37. Among those going were Michael Bennett, Danny and Janice Bennett, Freeman Farrington, David White, Orville Meisner, Donna and Clem Worcester and Craig Turner. Next Sunday at Brunswick there will be a reception for Grand Temple of Maine Grand Chief Linda Brewer.

It's been an interesting hunting season so far this fall, even though

I haven't shot a deer yet. Last Saturday morning great-nephew Josh Aylward was hunting with Davy Hanscom and Rob Hopper near Miles Notch, when the three of them spied a small bear's head sticking out of a hole in the ground. As I understand it, all three of them shot at the bear, but Josh got it. The poor thing had holes in two of its feet, as well as in the back of the head. Josh said it weighed in at 120 pounds, woods dressed, so it was probably a 150-pound bear, live weight. He says he's going to eat it, but I'm interested to see if Elsie will cook it for him!

One morning I was out at first light, hunting with Matt Ludden before he had to go to work. As I was stalking through some mixed hardwoods, alder and small fir trees, I noticed a black blob among the alders. Then it moved, and I could make out a moose with a huge rack. As I watched, more movement caught my eye, and a second bull moose materialized behind the first. To the left another black blob became a third moose! Then a fourth appeared behind that one. Finally tiring of watching them, I started walking again, and the moose began to trot off in a northerly direction to my left: as I watched, a fifth and sixth bull materialized and started moving to my right. It must have been a real bull session. They had to have all been bulls, because everybody knows that nothing can break up a bull session quicker than the presence of a female!

On Monday, I learned that Mona's daughter, Jane Ryerson, shot a three-point buck in the woods behind their house on Vernon Street. She is a patient, still hunter and a very good shot.

On Veteran's Day, Jane and Craig Ryerson, Judy and Jim Boyce with the helping hands of many friends and family put on a Thanksgiving feast for 75 or 76 extended family members and friends at the Bethel Legion post. There was lots of "catching up" to do, and lots of kids running around playing kid games, and lots of people I see around but really don't know. Best of all the food was excellent! Thanks to Jane, Judy and everybody else who helped put on this extravaganza.

Mona has two flowering crabapple trees in our yard, and they are covered by little red cherry-size apples. Last week, the pine grosbeaks discovered the tiny apples and started "pigging out" on them. There are eight birds that spend much of the day on one or the other crabapple tree. Red stems and seeds cover the ground under the trees, but there seem to be quite a few apples left, so far. At the rate the birds are going, the apples won't last long, though. I enjoy watching these beautiful birds, and they are the first pine grosbeaks we have seen. Usually, we have dozens of evening grosbeaks and an occasional red-breasted grosbeak, but never before have we seen the pine variety.

We are also hosting some tufted titmice (or is it titmouse?) the past few days. No cardinal so far this fall!

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

The nights are now cold and below freezing. The porch plants are now inside and will soon be cut back to winter in the cellar. I hate cutting the blossoms off but do a few at a time and take a bouquet to church on Sunday mornings. The amaryllis leaves have been cut off and the bulbs replanted in fresh potting soil. The largest, newest bulb had put out another bulb which now has its own pot. They will all get a rest and will hopefully bloom in December or January. Three of the bulbs were my mother's and I have been caring for them for nine years. They are long-lasting.

On Sunday, Nov. 18, at the West Paris Universalist Church at 9 a.m., the Rev. Richard Beal will speak on Thanksgiving, a traditional service of gratitude and expressing thanks. Please bring fruits and vegetables to decorate the sanctuary. A corn bread and cider communion will be served in the Transylvanian style. Jim Burke is organist. Come and join us for fellowship and refreshments. All are welcome.

On Thursday, Nov. 15, the West Paris Universalist Church will hold its annual chicken pie supper at 5:30 for the first setting. Please join us. There should be plenty of good food, for many are making two chicken pies each along with all the vegetables and dessert. This is the 101 year continuously for this event.

Senior Citizens met at Beryl and Fred Oja's for their annual Thanksgiving dinner. Individual turkeys for table decorations were at each place, made by Anna Swan. After the delicious meal a meeting was held and officers were elected for the coming year: president, Pat Breame; vice president, Betty Jones; secretary, Bertha DeHaas; and treasurer, Fred Breame.

Last week, I had a pleasant visit with Dorothy Christie in Gray. We enjoyed lunch at Cole Farms and then both got groceries, hopefully to last for a week or two.

On Sunday, the Veteran's Memorial in West Paris was dedicated following a parade which included the Boy Scouts and majorettes. The names of all the Veterans from West Paris from all the wars are printed on two memorial stones in the small park in the center of town. After the short service, I located the names of the four Lamb young men that served in World War II. I have often wondered how my mother-in-law slept at that time with four in the fighting. My husband, Newton, was Island hopping through the Pacific and finished in Japan right after

DBA: Andree Kehn Wedding Photography

Andree Kehn is a local photographer specializing in candid photojournalistic wedding photography. She has a foundation in true photojournalism, having been employed by several newspapers and is an active photographer for the Associated Press. She brings this passion for photojournalism to her wedding assignments. It's not her style to pose people in front of their wedding cake or to interrupt their first dance. A wedding is a celebration of two people's love for each other; Andree sees her job as capturing the story of that day's emotions and events. The outdoor furnace next door is about ready to be fired up. The building is finished with white siding and dark maroon trim and a black roof. It is pleasing to look at and should keep his home and two rents warm with very little wood.

All is well with my little one. I do need a cat for company and prefer cats to dogs. They are much less trouble and do not have to be walked.

Historical Society

The Historical Society museum is full of wonderful things to see. They are still adding more from time to time and welcome any exhibits you care to donate. Variety is the spice of life and you provide a new perspective on what is important for the museum. So don't hesitate to contribute. They now have added a mahogany chest to their furniture. The society looks forward to a good year. They always try to improve so they can offer you the very best.

They need new members to help them, so do consider joining them. They will make you welcome. Meetings are the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m.

Several society members celebrate birthdays in November. Wish them well. The society begins its 29th year in November.

Paul and Vicki Billings took Mary Billings to the Christmas Tree Shop in South Portland to celebrate her birthday. Larry gave her a number of presents spread over several months. Little things he picked up in various stores. On Sunday, Nov. 4, Larry saw travel programs on South America.

GSE applications

Applications to join Rotary's Group Study Exchange program are now being accepted. The exchange will be with The Philippines and will take place from mid-February to mid-March 2008.

Since its founding in 1965, the Group Study Exchange program has provided grants for countless teams of men and women in the early stages of their business and professional careers to travel abroad and share vocational information with the representatives of their respective professions in other countries.

Team members spend four to six weeks studying the host country's institutions, economy and culture while observing how their own professions are practiced abroad.

They follow a carefully planned itinerary, including visits to government and cultural institutions, schools, religious and historic sites and other points of interest.

In addition, each team member spends at least five days studying and observing the practice of his or her profession in the host country.

More than 500 exchanges between paired Rotary districts occur, each year, advancing the program's ultimate goal of promoting international understanding and goodwill.

To be eligible for the program, Team Members must be between the ages of 25 and 40 and employed full-time for at least two years and be U.S. Citizens. They are not allowed to be Rotarians or children of Rotarians.

The Philippines is the third largest English-speaking country in the world. The island nation is composed of more than 7,000 islands in the South Pacific and is a fascinating mix of influences from Spain, Latin America and the United States. The official languages are Filipino and English.

To download the application for Team Member, please visit www.rotary7780.org or contact Karen Wendell, Rotary District 7780 Group Study Exchange chair at (603) 427-0200.

Rotary overview

The Rotary Club of Bethel is very active in local community service projects and in providing financial support for other area organizations.

In recent years the club has funded a town clock for Bethel and the construction of bridges at Camp Susan Curtis in Stoneham.

Annually, the club sponsors a Christmas Senior Citizen luncheon and distributes Christmas gifts to needy area children with its Christmas for Children effort.

The club supports graduating high school seniors by awarding more than $7,000 in scholarships annually.

We also support cultural exchanges with foreign countries for area students and adults. And as part of Rotary International projects, we provide funds for medical services for Polio Plus (polio immunization) and Rotoplast (surgery for children with cleft lip).

In addition, we fund our own individual overseas projects, such as a water system for a school in Kenya, and a portable dental unit for Uruguay.

Regular fundraising activities include several annual events: an auction/yard sale, a golf tournament, two country breakfasts, and food booths at several community events.

We are happy to have interested individuals join us for breakfast on Tuesday mornings. For more information contact Steve Wight at 824-2410.

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

The day after Thanksgiving is the busiest shopping day before the holidays. Why not make the day less stressful by avoiding the crowded parking lots and canned Christmas music in the typical big-box stores and malls.

In Bethel, we have the perfect event, where 40 crafters and local product producers gather in the Bethel Inn Resort Conference Center for Bethel's Local Craft and Wares Fair.

The doors will open at 9 a.m. The Bethel Inn Conference Center is located off Main Street, Bethel, behind the Northeast Bank. Hundreds of one-of-a-kind items will be for sale — perfect for gift giving in any season!

Free horse-drawn wagon rides through Bethel Village will be offered from 2 to 4 p.m., sponsored by Oxford Networks. Interested riders should gather in front of the Bethel Library on the Bethel Common.

Shopping throughout the Bethel Village in our unique boutiques offers an unrushed experience as well. Plan to come to Bethel and spend the day enjoying our traditional New England charm. The Wares Fair will end promptly at 4 p.m. and most shops are open for at least another hour.

For more information on the Local Wares and Crafts Fair and the upcoming Country Christmas in Bethel, call the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce at 824-2282 or view our website at www.bethelmaine.com.

Addressing a gathering of approximately 100 guests, students, staff and instructors, Region 9's Director, Brenda Gammon (left), acknowledged former director, David Driscoll, the Region 9's staff, Cooperative Board, and supporters for their ongoing efforts to make the project a success. Valuation Day
An opportunity to learn something about the value of an antique or collectible at last Saturday's Valuation Day offered by the Bethel Historical Society attracted a steady flow of the curious from around the greater Bethel area.

For a $5 donation to the society, Jay Boschetti of Steam Mill Antiques provided a value for one or two items per person as well as numerous details as to condition, origin, and conservation strategies. Boschetti, who has been involved in this field for much of his life, operates a successful business just west of Bethel Hill on U.S. Route 2. He generously donated all fees to the society.

Lecture Series
The final lecture in the 2007 Bethel Historical Society series, "Maine Character and Character," sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council, was held on Nov. 8 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Society Director Stanley R. Howe presented a centenary profile of this remarkable "character," Elizabeth Mason Carter, and provided some insights into her personality and contributions to the community and beyond. There also was a lively discussion following the lecture by the audience who shared their memories of this Bethel native who lived nearly 100 years, dying just 14 months short of her 100th birthday.

Social worker, community organizer, publicist, insurance agent, animal welfare advocate and volunteer, political and elder care activist, Mrs. Carter was a founder of the Bethel Historical Society and the National Kimball Family Association.

She also worked for USO during World War II and the Maine Publicity Bureau during the 1950s, where she became very familiar with Maine's geography.

Howe noted that she left behind numerous memoirs and personal papers that will be of interest to local and regional historians in the future.

With over 1400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For over forty years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason, which now contains a period house museum, exhibit hall and research library.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

DON'T WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE

In most real estate transactions there are a few responsibilities that the sellers have to handle before the settlement, such as making repairs to areas of the home that do not pass inspection. If termites are discovered, for example, a pest extermination must be scheduled and accomplished. There are deadlines for completing these obligations, yet many sellers barely make those deadlines. Those who wait until the last minute may miss the deadline altogether or be obliged to pay high rates in order to get a plumber, roofer or electrician to do needed repairs on an emergency basis.

Even though sellers usually know well in advance what is needed, they sometimes put things off until the buyers have finalized the loan approval process. Since these repairs will have to be made anyway, it is a good idea to get them done promptly.

Obituaries

BARBARA H. BROWN

Barbara H. Brown, 64 Birch Street, Bryant Pond, passed away at Ledgewick Living Center on Nov. 9, 2007.

She was born in Bethel on May 4, 1914, a daughter of Arthur E. and Eva Glines Herick. She attended Bethel schools, graduating as salutatorian from Gould Academy in 1931 and from Peter Bent Brigham School of Nursing in 1935 after one year at Nason College. Barbara had worked as a registered nurse at Rumford Community Hospital for many years.

She married Norris Thurston Brown of Bethel, who died in 1997, and they made their home in Bethel for sixty years.

Survivors included two daughters and sons-in-law Susan B. and Charles W. Kettinger of Salem, N.H., and

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas our Heavenly Father has called our beloved brother, Franklin Ernest Burris, from earthly duties to the Great Grange above; and, whereas he has been a member of our order for eighty-three years:

Resolved that we, the members of Pleasant Valley Grange #136, extend our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records and a copy be sent to The Bethel Citizen to be printed therein as a token of respect.

Committee on Resolutions:
Pauline Applin
Jane Hosterman
Ina Grover

Vicky and Bill Myers of Bryant Pond; four grandchildren, C. William Kettinger Jr., Daniel N. Myers and his wife Kelly, Cheryl M. Barden and her husband Michael, and Clint T. Myers; four great-grandchildren, Justine, Jessica and William Myers and Daniel Barden; and a nephew, Brian J. McCrodden. She was predeceased by her parents; her sister, Kathryn McCrodden; and nephew Douglas McCrodden.

Barbara enjoyed providing fresh flower arrangements from her vast garden for the Bethel Historical Society and the West Parish Congregational Church for years. She was a talented artist, musician and craftsperson, who won many ribbons at agricultural fairs for her hooked and braided rugs and her paintings. She was a member of the West Parish Congregational Church and many fraternal organizations; Barbara was an athlete who enjoyed hiking, skiing, skating and walking (long before it was fashionable). She also loved to travel, particularly on the Delta Queen and watching sunsets in Florida. Barbara was a wise, productive, organized, loving wife, mother and grandmother.

There will be no calling hours. Services will be held at Riverside Cemetery on a spring date to be determined. If desired, friends may make memorial contributions to The Masonic Scholarship Fund, PO Box 1297, Bethel, ME 04217.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank everyone who gave me a special birthday party and all who came or sent cards. A special thanks to my family.

WYATT W. BENNETT

Wyatt Wyckoff Bennett passed away on Nov. 11, 2007 following a tragic accident. Born May 30, 2005, he was the son of Jim W. Bennett and Robin Andacky Bennett.

Although Wyatt's young age of just two and one-half years is considerably short, those who knew him were touched by his gentle nature and loving spirit. His welcoming smile was exceptionally contagious and though his spoken words were few, his keen observation of all that went on around him assured everyone he understood much.

Wyatt was all boy. He could spend hours playing with construction toys, pretend riding motorcycles, playing with tractors or the like. His mischievous grin will be well remembered by all and kept many alert as to what his next move might be. He enjoyed being outside and making trips with his mom to Screw Auger Falls and Snow Falls to watch the water and being held close and holding dear his little froggie and blanket. He enjoyed time helping his father work on motorcycles and riding through wooded Jeep trails.

His compassion for others at such a young age was noteworthy, as he would quickly offer a comforting hug to those he heard crying or found to be sad. Wyatt never shied away from affection, providing goodbye hugs and kisses to those he knew. Wyatt's brief time with us reminds us that life is worth celebrating. He will be deeply missed by all and will remain with us forever in our hearts.

Wyatt was predeceased by his brother, Samuel Ward Bennett, and his paternal grandparents, Peter Ward Bennett and Joan Hengartner Bennett.

A Memorial Service was held Wednesday, Nov. 14, at Bethel Alliance Church. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to: Make-A-Wish Foundation, 87 Elm Street, Camden, ME 04843. Please acknowledge your donation in honor of Wyatt Wyckoff Bennett.

NOTICE: The annual meeting of Project Opportunity, Inc. will be held in conjunction with its regular Board of Directors meeting on November 27, 2007 at 4pm at Telstar High School in the Principal's Conference Room.
